COUNCIL AWARDS UNITED DREDGING COMPANY HARBOR CONTRACT

The CORE

A timber wolf, the second to be found in Chicago within a week, was killed yesterday. The animal was shot by an unidentified man, who rushed to the assistance of Mrs. Anna Busek, when she was attacked by the wolf in front of her home.

A painting of Colonel John Coolidge made two years before his death in the Vermont home-stand has been shown to President Coolidge by the artist, Pierre Tartu.

Congress was urged to pass a law placing an embargo on munitions to nations engaged in war, with the hope that other powerful countries will do likewise and thereby promote universal peace, in a report filed by the House Foreign Affairs committee.

Replying to Senate critics, Secretary of State Kellogg denied that favoritism is shown in the selection of appointments for high diplomatic posts.

Six directorships of the Chicago Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railway have been filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission for approval. Those filing were Harry E. Bryan of Chicago and Walter P. Chrysler, George E. Hoover, Robert T. Swaine, W. W. Colpitts, Frederick H. Becker and Mortimer H. Buckner of New York.

The 1928 National Democratic convention in Houston in June will be housed in the largest structure ever used by the party for such a purpose, according to Clem Shaver, chairman of the Democratic National committee.

President Cosgrave and his colleagues of the Free State Good Will Mission miraculously escaped from death yesterday when the special train bearing the party crashed through an open switch, leaving the rails about 200 feet from the railroad station of the little village of Limoges, 25 miles from Ottawa.

GARAGES SEEK TANK PERMIT

Two applications from garage operators to display lubricating oil tanks on the curbs in front of their places of business, caused the council to refer the matter to the council as a committee of the whole for consideration.

City manager J. A. McVittie told the council there was an ordinance in force at the present time, which prevented this practice.

City Attorney T. M. Carlson added that permits could be given by amending the ordinance, by providing that the council could take special action when applications were filed.

Some members of the council were of the opinion this would lead to endless trouble, and would establish precedents, that would be bad.

The applications to place these tanks on the curbs were from John Donnemurth at 231 Ninth street, and from the Chancelor garage at 257 Sixteenth street.

PASSES AWAY

Word has been received by Mrs. W. H. Sanford from Pueblo, Colo., of the death of her sister-in-law Mrs. Mina Fineran, Sunday night.

VISITS MARTINEZ

Walter T. Helms, city superintendent of schools, made a trip to Martinez yesterday.

DREDGING TO BEGIN WITHIN THIRTY DAYS

Within thirty days the dredging of the eastern section of the inner harbor will be started by the United Dredging Company.

LOWEST BIDDER
The contract for the work was awarded to this company by the council at its meeting last evening. This dredging company was the lowest of three bidders, and offered to do the work for 18.88 cents per cubic yard.

TO COST $80,000
There are 429,000 cubic yards of dirt to be removed, and it is estimated the job will total $80,240. The estimate of the city engineer was $77,000.

This dredging at the inner harbor is the work agreed upon between the city of Richmond and the Ford Motor company at the time the latter agreed to build its new plant here.

Man Seeks To Purchase City Owned Property

C. E. Piculas made application to the council last evening to purchase a lot on Potrero avenue now owned by the City of Richmond, and years ago had a volunteer fire department building on it.

The lot is in the Meeker addition, and was a gift to the city. City Attorney T. M. Carlson informed the council that until he saw the deed he was unable to say whether the city had the right to sell or not.

Salesian School Dedication Today

Official opening at San Pablo of the new House of Studies of the Salesian order will take place this morning at 10:30 when Archbishop Edward J. Hanna officiates at the opening exercises.

Twelve acres of land is included in the school property, which was purchased last September at a cost of $30,000. Alterations to the buildings on the former Emeric estate made by John A. Poporato, San Francisco architect, amounted to nearly $20,000. All of the buildings are in readiness for the opening of the school which will take place immediately.

Justice To Try Golf Rival

P. W. McDonough of the Standard Oil plant, was arrested Sunday morning by State Traffic Officer Charles H. Nissen for speeding, and will appear in Justice of Peace A. A. Alstrom's court Monday February 6 for trial. It is reported that McDonough and Justice Alstrom are rivals on the golf course and friends of the two men are speculating on the events that will happen when Alstrom and McDonough meet in court.

MACHINES COLLIDE

The machines of Joe Andrade, 515 Ninth street, and Mrs. Anna C. Bates, 686 Seventh street, Richmond, collided Sunday afternoon at the corner of Eighth street and Macdonald avenue. Neither of the drivers were injured and only slight damage was done to the machines.

Honored

FRANCE'S MOST FAMOUS MEN have signed their names in a handmade book which is to be presented January 25 to Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh (above), mother of famous flyer. Among the signers were Marshal Foch, Marshal Joffre, President Doumergue and many others.

Merchants Discuss Lighting Along Macdonald Avenue

Developments of the plan sponsored by the Richmond Merchants association to increase the lighting along Macdonald avenue were discussed at the meeting of the association yesterday at a luncheon held in the Hotel Carquinez.

A report by H. H. Robinson, lighting expert of the Pacific Gas and Electric company, stated that the present lighting system could best be increased by installing 1500 candle power globes in place of the present 600 candle power lights with the result that the present lighting power would be increased five times.

Expense to the property holders for installation of the new plan would be only 16 cents per front foot, as the electric company would supply the globes without additional cost. At present the cost to the city for illumination is 44 cents a front foot, and the increase would make the cost 60 cents.

"I believe that, should the new lights be installed, the brackets should be raised to provide a better perspective," said Robinson, "and that the blank space along Southern Pacific property should have its regular quota of lights so that there would be no break in the vista of lights along the avenue as one looked at it from either end."

Those interested in the plan as suggested by Robinson were L. Garfinkle, president of the association, E. B. Bull, George Rooker, and J. R. Cravath. It was reported that a better understanding between the merchants, property owners, and the city council should be concluded.

Secretary of the association, Clifford Anglim, is to prepare a report for the council to be submitted at their next meeting.

Judge Hears Two Suits For Accidents At Same Crossing

Fourteenth street and Macdonald avenue was the center of attraction in Justice of the Peace A. A. Alstrom's court yesterday when two cases resulting from automobile accidents were brought up for trial.

First of the cases was the suit of International Indemnity company, against Mrs. L. E. Fortner for the sum of $46.11 for alleged damages to a machine driven by Mrs. Edna N. Davies when struck by the machine of Mrs. Fortner, March 27 of last year.

STREET TO BE REZONED FOR NEW INDUSTRY

On the recommendation of the city planning commission the city council last evening ordered the re-zoning of two pieces of property.

The property of A. M. Lamar, on Tenth street, between Macdonald and Bissell was changed from residential to commercial. This is a part of the property that has been purchased by the S. H. Kress company, which will erect a large department store. The property which also faces on Macdonald avenue has a frontage of 50 feet.

The lots of S. Toyota on Fifteenth street, between Macdonald and Nevin, was changed from commercial to light industry. It is understood a laundry is to be erected on the lots.

Residents Ask Street Lighting

Eighteen residents in the neighborhood of Richmond avenue and Idaho street last evening petitioned the council to have a street light placed at that point.

The petition was referred to the light committee of one week.

HURLEY RECOVERING

A. J. Hurley, building inspector of the city, is recovering at his home from a slight illness. He is expected to be able to return to his office within a few days.

Contracts For Bank Building Here Awarded To Snelgrove

Contracts for the erection of the new $50,000 Richmond Commercial and Savings Bank building have been awarded to Wallace Snelgrove, local contractor, according to announcement made public by George Barnett, president of the bank yesterday.

Work will be started immediately and the building will be ready for occupancy about June 1, according to President Barnett. The building will be of reinforced concrete with a tiled roof and will be of a similar design of the bank of Italy building just completed at Shattuck and University avenues, in Berkeley. It is estimated that the total investment in the new location including the land and equipment will be about $100,000.

"Needless to say we are anxious to have the new building completed and ready for occupancy as soon as possible," said Barnett, "as our present quarters are merely temporary and are too small and inconvenient for the growing business of the bank. The new building will be complete in every detail and will be one which will add both to the business facilities and appearance of Macdonald avenue."

Shell Employee Faces Charges Of Bigamy

MARTINEZ, Jan. 30.—Arrested by Deputy Sheriff B. E. Martenstein, Harry E. Shonberg, 40, Shell company employee at Pittsburg, is at liberty on bail today awaiting summons to San Diego of bigamy preferred against him by his former wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Shonberg.

Declaring that his second marriage, performed in Delmar on July 23, 1927 and annulled five days later, was contracted under a misapprehension, Shonberg is confident that the charge against him will be dismissed when the facts are made known to the court.

Shonberg was taken into custody on instructions of Sheriff J. C. Byers of San Diego county.

New Inspector To Assume Duties

Wednesday morning Edward N. McLaughlin, the newly appointed city electrician will take his office, the preliminary to such action, at the meeting of the city council last evening he filed his bond, was approved and placed on file.

DEPOSITIONS IN HICKMAN CASE READ IN COURT

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 30.—Child hood scenes were recreated today for William Edward Hickman when his defense began the task of attempting to prove his "no guilty by reason of insanity" of the kidnapping and killing of 12 year-old Marion Parker.

The scenes were not pleasant ones. Over them all, as described by defense witnesses of Sebastian county, Arkansas, lay the shadow of mental irregularity and domestic unhappiness.

WALSH TAKES STAND
These residents of Sebastian county spoke through the lips of Jerome Walsh, chief defense attorney, and District Attorney Asa Keyes. Their depositions had been taken by Walsh and cross examination was conducted by deputy district attorney Costello.

From the witness chair, Walsh read the depositions while the state questions and answers were read by the prosecution table. These depositions impeach the sanity of Hickman's mother, grandmother and a first cousin. They reflected on the conduct of Hickman's father who it was said left his family some nine years ago after "running around with other women."

They touched the defendant only incidentally. In those early days in Sebastian county in the region of Hartford, West Hartford and "Log Hollow" settlements, the confessed kidnapper and killer of little Marion Parker had not reached his teens.

Lougheed Asks Delay In Court To Confer With New Attorneys

MARTINEZ, Jan. 30.—Desire of Victor Lougheed, 50, San Francisco inventor and author, to be represented by counsel, today balked his planned arraignment before Superior Judge A. B. McKenzie on a statutory charge preferred against him by Miss Estelle Leighton, 22 year old Berkeley newspaper solicitor.

Previous conviction of Lougheed of an attempt to commit a statutory offense was reversed by the Appellate Court and the inventor was returned here from San Quentin Saturday to face a second trial. He had been in the prison since September.

Taken before Judge McKenzie this afternoon Lougheed insisted on right to be represented by counsel and said he had not had an opportunity to communicate with his friends or a lawyer.

"Time of arraignment has not been fixed, but it was declared Lougheed would be brought into court again within a few days."

CITY COUNCIL OPPOSES RATE INCREASE HERE

The city council at its meeting last evening entered the fight, along with other cities, against the proposed increase of rates in the different cities.

A resolution was unanimously adopted, protesting any increase in rates, at the same time asking for a decrease, and memorializing congress to cause an investigation to be held and ascertain the relations existing among the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Western Electric Company.

Copies of the resolution will be forwarded by City Attorney T. M. Carlson to United States Senators Samuel M. Shortridge and Hiram E. Johnson, and to the different members of congress.

The resolution adopted reads as follows:

"WHEREAS, the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company has petitioned the Railroad Commission of the State of California to increase the telephone rates in San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, Piedmont, Richmond and other communities about San Francisco Bay; and

"WHEREAS, this City Council is advised by the City Attorney that the rates asked by the said Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company are believed to be unfair and exorbitant, and that the rates paid in the communities referred to should be decreased instead of increased, and could be decreased and allow the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company to make a fair return on the capital it has invested, if the said Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company operated its business without paying to the American Telephone and

POSTAL TORPEDOES

Paris tells of a new French plan for expediting mail delivery. It contemplates the use of an "aerial torpedo." This torpedo would not be literally fired through the air like the long-range German shells that bombarded Paris during the war. But it would have almost the speed of such a projectile, traveling at 250 miles an hour and suspended on wires, and driven by electricity. Every shell would carry about 50 pounds of letters and other important mail matter.

It is not the proposal of some mere theorist, but is soberly recommended by the government's chief engineer of aeronautics, the chief engineer of an important railroad and a professor of the Polytechnic institute. Such a line, they say, could be built for about $6,000 a mile. It would span the country in two and a half hours.

The mechanical idea is not exactly new. Twenty years ago Tom L. Johnson then mayor of Cleveland, who had operated electric traction lines in Brooklyn and elsewhere, was working on a system by which passengers were to be transported in trolley cars slung from single rails, up in the air, at a speed of 100 to 200 miles an hour. It is the same mechanical principle that is often used in cash-carrying systems in American stores.

Doubtless it is practical enough to ship mail matter in that way. But won't airplanes soon serve the purpose adequately?

FARM RELIEF BY CHEMIST

Charles C. Baldwin of St. Louis, Mo., in a letter to the Public Ledger, advances the thought that the farm relief problem may be solved by the chemists rather than by the economists of politicians. He tells how when he had a surplus of unsalable apples some time ago, he turned thousands of bushels into vinegar and could, he says have gone further if he desired by turning them into apple butter, apple jelly, apple sauce and marmalade. He went further and fed the steers which he bought on the pulps. He feels that this line can be followed with regard to other products and calls attention to the fact that oil has more than a thousand by-products, coal about a thousand limestone four-hundred and lead, iron, zinc with also a considerable number of side uses. In contrast, he said corn has only one hundred and thirty, cotton a hundred, but wheat only a dozen. The thought would seem to be worth considering.

George Wickersham is quoted as saying at a recent dinner of the League of National Non-Partisan association that the proposal "that we have the greatest navy in the world is an appalling thing to come from the people of the United States." It sure is. Any expressed desire to have the greatest navy in the world can only come properly from the people of Great Britain. Any of our good internationalists will tell you that much.

If You Have It In Eyes Your Personality Shines

By LADY BEATRICE GREY

Do your eyes have "it"? The eyes are the mirrors of the soul. You may have a poker face—but your eyes will tell your innermost secrets. Eyes may be beautiful—and they may be any color, it's the expression that counts.

Good health—clean mental and physical habits are the real basis for a pair of beautiful eyes.

Resting the eye at proper intervals is just as important as resting the body. General exercises are necessary for good bodily health. Take a peek into the looking glass some day when you have just returned from skating. See how your eyes shine with vitality and pep! A dull, listless, dead looking eye. Keep your mind and body active—and your eyes will gleam with light. General exercises involving movements of the neck muscles do double duty, for they help strengthen the eye muscles as well.

The brilliance of the eye depends to a great extent upon the degree of liquid which is secreted—the same fluid which turns into tears in excess.

Closing the eyes and rolling the eyeballs around beneath the lids is a good exercise if not done to excess. Rest the eyes when doing close work by looking up from it and focusing the eye upon some distant object. Never read, write or do close work in poor light. It isn't worth the eye strain which will result.

Remember, you use your eyes probably more than any other part of your body, consequently they need rigorous and watchful care.

Never rub your eyes, for besides irritating them, you will find that the lids will become swollen, inflamed and eventually enlarged and wrinkled. If a bit of foreign matter gets into the eye, grasp the lid between the thumb and forefinger and pull the lid downward, over the eyeball toward the cheek. Release and repeat. This will effectively remove the particle of dust. Always treat the eye gently.

Beauty Secrets Told In Health Acrostic

Here's a physical culture acrostic which an enthusiastic reader of this column sent me the other day. There seemed to be a lot of very good advice in it—and I thought I ought to pass it on to the others:

Hold your head and shoulders high and your shoulders back. Accumulate a surplus fund by vitality and energy by moderate and careful living habits. Look for the vegetables on the menu.

Take regular baths. Have a happy smile on your face. Forget there is any such word as worry in the English language. Order your sleeping hours with regularity.

Relax completely at intervals to refresh your body and mind. Breathe deeply of fresh air. Exercise daily and strenuously. Absorb everything beautiful in life.

Undertake at least one strenuous mental and physical task each day. Take a daily walk in the fresh air.

Yield not to mental and physical excesses. If you will follow the motto contained in the words formed

What Do You Know?

2. When was the first railroad built?
3. What does the average American pay for light?
4. What state has the smallest negro population in the United States?

6. Which weighs more, a pound of feathers or a pound of gold?

How To EARN MONEY at HOME

By Sara Spence

INCREASING HEIGHT—I frequently receive inquiries from young men and women who want to increase their height. The ages of these persons vary all the way from 12 to 35. It seems that before 12 one is not sufficiently self-conscious to notice the height, while after 35 one has become sufficiently philosophical not to bother about it.

All who inquire seem to have an idea that some special food or diet or exercise will almost magically increase the height. I grieve to dash the hopes of these anxious ones, but honesty compels me to inform them that there is no magic formula that will make them grow. Diet and exercise do influence the height, but not as much as heredity. By proper diet and exercise from infancy upward, one may grow taller than his parents or many of his ancestors, but still not equal the growth of some one else who comes from taller stock.

If one waits until maturity before making any effort, it is not impossible to increase the height, but the amount will be small. It will take time to secure and attention will have to be given to every phase of right living, as well as to diet and exercise.

The feeding of glandular compounds has been recommended for stimulating growth and not without some success, but an excess of the active principles of one gland will certainly upset the function of the other glands in the endocrine chain.

The only safe plan is to employ a diet rich in the elements which stimulate growth and then create a demand for greater height through exercise and autosuggestion. Raw fruits and vegetables, whole grain corn and oats, milk, egg yolk and nuts all contain growth producing elements and vitamins. All exercises are helpful, but special attention is given to stretching movements for the spine and legs. Proper posture is also very important.

What is your opinion of mineral waters for constipation? I am careful of my diet, but am quite constipated—James B.

Mineral waters have about the same effect as a mild dose of salts. They are not a cure for constipation, but, in common with all such laxatives, make the condition worse in the end. They may be permissible for temporary relief, but even here the enema is to be preferred. In order to really overcome constipation it is necessary to fast a while, so as to rest and cleanse the intestines, and then to follow a strictly natural diet, with plenty of raw foods and to use regular exercise and deep breathing.

What is blurred vision? Am far-sightedness and astigmatism the same thing? Do you have to wear glasses for blurred vision? H. O. B.

Blurred vision may be due to a great variety of conditions, including astigmatism. It would be better for you to have the eyes carefully examined in order to determine just what is wrong. Astigmatism is not the same as far-sightedness. The former is due to irregularities in the curve of the cornea and far-sightedness is due to a flattening of the eyeball. Glasses may be of some temporary assistance for relieving strain in certain cases but they are rarely a necessity and never a cure.

Canvassing has rather a bad reputation. I think this is because so many people try to sell when they have no talent for it. For really it is a very good way to earn money, especially for you, dear readers, who have to spend the day or part of the day in the house. If you don't like the work, don't try it. At times canvassing seems like the most discouraging job in all the world. But if you are a naturally persuasive talker, with a winning personality and an eagerness to meet new people, you will find the work interesting. Choose your articles and the neighborhood you are going to sell them in. Household goods and things to wear appeal to the housewife. It is to her that you will sell most. Use your judgment, and don't try to sell when the customer is obviously busy and annoyed. On the other hand, don't be too easily discouraged. The best part of canvassing is that you can do it when you like and where you want and with what you like. Three unusual assets!

I at one time owned a hair-dressing parlor and made a great deal of money in the store selling a hair salve. I would now like to make this up and go around selling it. Will I have to have a permit? Also, is it permissible?—M. A. C.

As far as I know, the business you are considering is perfectly legitimate and I don't think you will even require a permit. However, for definite information, I would advise you to write to the Labor Department.

I am a good ragtime piano player and thought perhaps you could tell me where I could earn a little extra money—getting in an orchestra or over the radio. It would have to be part time work.—P. L.

I'll send you the addresses of the radio stations, although they do not pay unless you are playing for an advertising unit or are well known. Have you tried the agencies for musicians? You might make quite a bit too, playing for clubs—apply at those in your neighborhood.

My baby brother is 5 years old. He is very fond of horses. He never saw a mouse. The other day he went into my father's room and saw a mouse on the rug. He came out to my mother and said, "Oh mama, there's a little 'orse on papa's rug."

SYNOPSIS

The New York Ghetto seethes with the activities of preparation for the celebration of Yom Kippur, a most important Jewish holiday. Cantor Rabinowitz, a man revered by all the Lower East Side for his religious devotion and his knowledge of Hebrew music, has called his choir boys to the Orchard Street Synagogue for a final rehearsal before the services. To his disgust he finds them listening to his greatest abomination, jazz music. He looks for his son, Jackie, and at that moment a baseball strikes the window and Jackie appears, trembling in fear of his father's wrath.

"Jackie!" The Cantor's voice vibrated with anger.

"I—I couldn't help it, papa. The boy stumbled, singing in fear. 'I didn't mean to hit it so hard. Honest, I didn't!'"

The old man raised his hand as though to strike. The students on the benches looked expectantly from father to son, hoping for the added diversion of punishment for Jackie, and thus a prolongation of the beginning of their lessons. As Jackie saw his father's menacing attitude he ducked. But the hand dropped.

"Go!" The Cantor waved the boy to his seat. "I fix you good next time."

Jackie stared at his father, but the scholars were already being lined up for their singing lesson, and the child took his accustomed place among the others. Cantor Rabinowitz called them to attention. He walked over to the piano and struck a note. A sour sound issued forth. The Cantor sniffed disdainfully—sorrowfully, even. From his inside coat pocket he produced an old-fashioned tuning fork, struck it on the side of the piano, and held it to his ear.

"M-m-m-m," he hummed, giving the boys the key. "Nu, follow me!"

The Cantor poured forth a wailing chant in his deep, resonant voice, imitated by his pupils. But he watched carefully that all mouths opened and sang lustily. And when one child looked longingly toward the window his reward was a cuff on the ear.

"Oh! Don't I say yet you should sing—not make monkey business!"

The boys who had been grinning and nudging each other, shuffling their feet and wriggling about, quickly turned their eyes front as they heard the Cantor's words, and tucked up the chant with renewed vigor. But as unwilling as the spirit was the flesh. The students turned again and again to look out the window. They could hear faintly the outside sounds, the shouts of their playmates, the bustle of the streets.

The Cantor shook his head impatiently. "Stop! Stop!" he called, raising his fists and shaking them in the air. "Go! You sound like crazy cats crying already!"

The erstwhile scholars, scuffling noisily, made a beeline for the door, relieved. Jackie snatched his cap and began a hasty exit. But his father was quicker. The Cantor grabbed the boy by the shoulder, and held him firmly. Jackie followed the disappearing figures of his playmates with tearful eyes. When the last one had closed the door the father faced his son about.

"For why should he be playing so?" The father pointed to the broken window. The child backed away, shaking his head miserably. But the Cantor's anger was already changing to sadness.

"A fine Cantor you should be!—amazing Synagogue windows yet!"

The boy looked up at his father, debating as to his answer. To him the future of Cantor in a Synagogue, so carefully planned out and so nobly looked forward to by his father, held no pleasure of pleasantness for the young "sinner."

"But papa," the child finally managed to blurt out, "I don't want to be no Cantor!"

"What! No Cantor!" The bearded singer gasped, unwilling to believe that his ears had heard aright. Why, this was pure blasphemy. If swallowed hard, and then smiled sarcastically.

"So! And you didn't want you should be a Cantor, what'll you go to be?" He waited for an answer to a question which he regarded as unanswerable. Jackie decided to take his stand. He looked up at his father courageously.

"I want to be a singer in a theater," he proclaimed, ducking again as though expecting the wrath of the ancients to fall upon his head. The Cantor stared at the boy in amazement. He raised his hands in horror at the very thought. "A Rabinowitz a singer in a theater!"

"For five generations has been a Rabinowitz a Cantor," he burst out. "I teach you to be one! And you should be a common actor in a lowlife theater!"

His beard bristled. He rushed for his son, shaking his fists excitedly. But the boy stood his ground, raising steadily at his father. The older man halted suddenly, looking down on the child. Then his arms dropped to his sides. The tears came into his eyes. He turned away, shaking his head sorrowfully.

AND THE WORST IS YET TO COME

"BECKY" HEADS FEATURE BILL AT CALIFORNIA

Those who have watched the steady climb of Sally O'Neil up the cinema ladder of fame and fortune will find pleasure in "Becky," the Cosmopolitan production now playing at the California Theatre.

Sally began her picture work more than two years ago. Never played extra a day. Never played an ordinary role. Always a lead. Leading women in drama at sixteen are few and far apart—but there is only one Sally O'Neil.

That is the secret of her success. She was born an actress even if she never suspected it until she was drawn into pictures by a caprice of fate.

Sally O'Neil has been improving in screen technique right along but she has always possessed a personality which needed no improvement.

As Becky is the new Cosmopolitan picture little Miss O'Neil has mastered the hardest role she has encountered in the two years of her career.

The role requires that she do every sort of acting from slapstick to grand opera and the film story even includes a stage play with Sally as the featured player.

One might well say that the scenarist gave Sally a test that left out nothing which might disclose ability.

She is ably supported by Owen Moore as Dan Scarlett, a New York crook, and by Harry Crocker and Gertrude Olmstead who have roles as snobbish brother and sister. Mack Swain did some excellent acting as a comedian and made us think of the old Mack Sennett comedies when Mack was the whole thing.

"Becky" was filmed by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Sally's newspaper serial of an Irish Jewish show girl with a consuming ambition to become a grand opera star. She never gets within sight of her goal but she learns the difference between a boiled shirt and real gentleman. The picture was directed by John P. McCarthy.

Other features include "Fantasy," a screen novelty; and "Topics of the day," and "Aesop's Fables."

House Predicts Defeat Of Present Shipbuilding Plan

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—President Coolidge faces certain defeat in his recommendation that Congress merely "authorize" a great shipbuilding program without making the money available for actual construction, bigger navy men in Senate and House predicted tonight.

The House Naval Affairs committee already has rejected President's proposal as submitted by Secretary of the Navy Wilbur.

"Congress is not disposed to be caught in a trap in which we merely authorize vessels and not make definite dates for building the ships; we cannot win a war and guard our nation with paper ships," declared Rep. Fred A. Britten, Illinois, ranking republican on the naval committee, tonight.

The committee's decision to report a bill calling for a building program spread over eight years, with all vessels started within five years, has started the small navy men busy in the appropriations committee to hamstring whatever the naval committee does.

Under house procedure the naval committee reports "authorizing" legislation. After that is passed by Congress, it is up to the appropriations committee to report bills actually appropriating the funds to carry out the authorization.

A fight between the appropriations and naval committee already has begun to smoulder. It undoubtedly will break out on the floor of the House in the final show-down, with the appropriations committee calling for a smaller building program than the naval committee wants.

"Wet" Platforms Sought In Both Party Groups

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Adoption of clean cut prohibition enforcement plank by both Republican and Democratic party platforms in this year's Presidential election is the goal of an independent group of men and women who today announced a conference in this city, February 28.

"The friends of prohibition law enforcement demand positive declarations in the party platforms. They will strive to defeat office seekers who are either negative or silent," declared the Call for the conference.

Among the leaders identified with the conference are: S. Parks Cadman, Mary E. Woolley, Dr. Ray Wilbur, Canon Gilbert, John A. Lapp, of Chicago, James I. Vance, William Thomas Manning, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Irving Fisher, H. W. Farham, Wonslow Russell and Mrs. John Sherman.

warships, are believed to be certain of considerable whittling in Congress. Wilbur suggested that no time limit be set for carrying out the program although he said the Navy Department would like to have all the ships started inside of five years.

The $740,000,000 is for construction of the ships; all cost of operation and maintenance, together with some 30,000 additional seamen required to man the vessels, would call for further appropriation by Congress.

Even the most rabid preparedness advocates in Congress admit that such a program stands little show of being passed. Material reduction in the program is believed likely, but there will be a program.

Frank admission by Secretary Wilbur and Admiral Charles F. Hughes, chief of Naval operations that the United States Navy is not adequate, has caused a furor in Congressional circles.

Revival Closes At M. E. Church

The last of a three week series of revival services was conducted by Rev. George W. Porman of the Community Methodist church, corner Twenty-first street and Roosevelt avenue on Saturday night. There was a large crowd present to hear Rev. Porman's sermon, "Weighed in the Balance and Found Wanting." The special music for the services was a song by the quartet, Rev. George W. Porman, George Glineburg, Mrs. Henrietta Solars and Mrs. C. J. Seymour. Rev. Porman sang a solo at the closing, "Weighed in the Balance and Found Wanting."

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."

Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless. And works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every drug store has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

Her mother, and the disgraced acts of the engineer's brother make the girl give him up. In anger she marries the rich man. Her bridal party is carried on the engineer's fast train. Attacked by bandits, the husband is shot, though the train with its cargo is saved. The bad brother is of the bandits and Monte throttles him. Monte's change of heart, but the bandits mete out punishment to him as a double-crosser. Monte and the girl at last have a clear track to Honey-moon Valley. MEXICO LOSES IN ATTEMPT TO BLOCK BOARD

By GEORGE HINMAN
Havana, Jan. 30.—The good faith of the United States in the affairs of the Pan-American Union today received overwhelming vindication when the statement of the Western world literally smothered the Mexican proposals for upsetting the present organization.

Mexico was unable to win a single supporter for its amendment, which would have eliminated the American Secretary of State as chairman of the Union's governing board, also by Lewis B. Howe, an American, as Director General.

With impressive unanimity, all of the Republics on the first commission of the conference voted for the present organization. Justice Salpador Urbina of the Mexican Supreme Court alone stood to be counted in support of his amendment.

The roll calls which buried the Mexican proposals followed an address by former Secretary of State Hughes as chief of the American delegation. Hughes expressed his appreciation of the spirit of the decision and defended the motives of his countrymen in their relations with the other peoples of the Americas. He said:

"The United States approves the manifestation of the spirit of Democracy in the affairs of the Pan-American Union. We want the complete equality of the nations. We are great and rich and powerful. We are not ashamed of these achievements, but we do not seek to misuse our strength."

The United States wishes the Pan-American Union to be considered only as a working force for the cause, and desires for itself no post of eminence. The American people want between themselves and the peoples of the Western world a true fellowship and the consciousness of a community of interest."

Spontaneous applause from the other delegates greeted these remarks by Hughes. The American leader then declared himself in favor of continuing to allow the governing board of the Union to select its own chairman and the Director General. The Mexican proposals sought to make these posts alphabetically rotate for the 21 Republics.

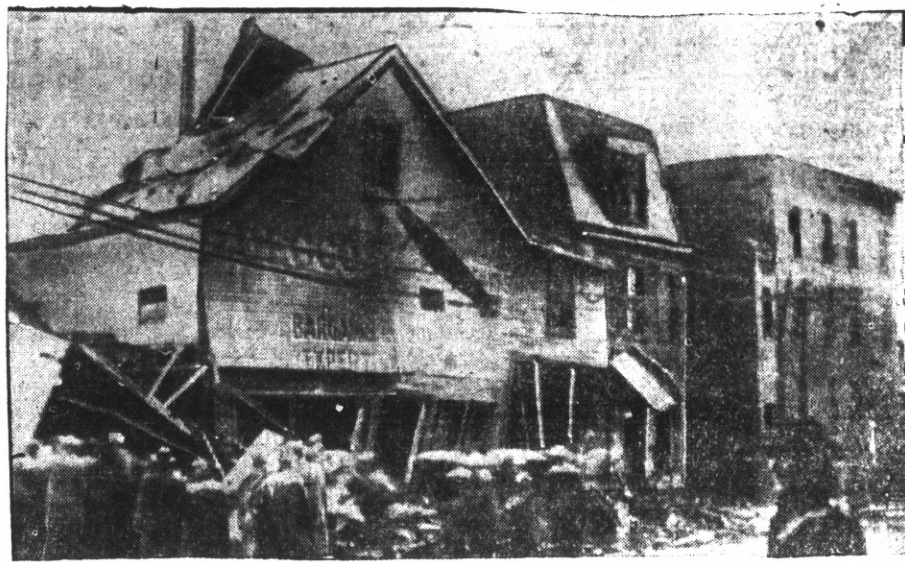

Honorio Pueyrredon, Argentine Ambassador at Washington and chief of delegation spoke vigorously in opposition to the Mexican amendment. He said that the Union had been strengthened by the fact that the board was able to make the American Secretary of State its chairman. He asserted that Hughes and Secretary of State Kellogg as chairman had never tried to bring the slightest pressure to bear on the Republics of the other twenty.

Ecuador, which previously had indicated its intention to support Mexico, changed front and argued against the amendment. Dr. Jacob Varela, Minister of Uruguay at Washington and chief of delegation, also spoke against the Mexican proposals. Cuba also supported the present organization.

Dr. Urbina asserted that, if the Mexican proposals were rejected, the Conference would lose all that it had gained last week in voting to "disdiplommatize" the Union. This was a reference to the vote authorizing others than diplomats to serve on the governing board.

The delegation from the Dominican Republic immediately protested against this interpretation of the earlier action. It declared that the Conference sought to "disdiplommatize" the Union along the lines advocated by Mexico, and pointed out the specific reference by the delegates to the members of the Washington diplomatic corps as representatives of their governments on the Union governing board.

ONE MAN WAS KILLED, more than thirty injured and hundreds of homes smashed like match boxes when freak tornado tore path 200 miles wide through Ohio and Kentucky. Damage will exceed $1,000,000.

The real purpose of the Mexican proposals was unscrupulous when Dr. Urbina made pointed reference to the fact that the American Secretary of State had served as head of the Union for 38 years; but this reference failed to alarm the other Republics. The vindication of the United States was complete and emphatic.

While the first commission was voting down the Mexican proposals, the Commission on Communications met elsewhere and decided that non-American governments should be permitted to adhere to the Pan-American treaty on commercial aviation. This action will permit Canada to operate commercial airplanes on the same status as the 21 Republics. It will permit the Pan-American treaty to be amended to include non-American governments.

Ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, in charge of the aviation draft, reported that the subcommittee in charge of amendments had practically reached an agreement as to the suggestions made by Mexico and Colombia, but that there were still some details to be worked out. Mexico, it is understood, will not press its proposal for forbidding embargoes against a foreign shipper. Colombia is expected to accept a modified American amendment which will safeguard the Pan-American Convention at the same time guarantee equal treatment to the planes of all nations.

All sessions of the Conference were adjourned over tomorrow in order to permit the delegates to join in an excursion to the Cuban Naval Academy.

INVESTIGATION OF AM. TEL. CO ASKED BY SEN.

Washington, Jan. 30.—A congressional investigation of the activities of the American Telephone & Telegraph company and its subsidiaries was sought today in a resolution introduced by Senator Hiram Johnson (R.), California.

The Johnson resolution, which was referred to the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee, seeks a thorough study of the telephone field—its methods of financing and its control over the country's communication systems.

"I offer this resolution on behalf of the cities of the State of California, and particularly of the cities of San Francisco and Oakland," Johnson told the Senate. "The increases our cities assert are exorbitant and they stand ready to prove these increases are without justification."

"Their foundation is in the particular jugglery of the relations of the telephone company with interrelated corporations. Only the Congress by appropriation investigation can develop the facts; and the resolution seeks by senatorial investigation that the truth may be revealed."

Senator Johnson served notice on the Senate that he will "speak in detail" on the resolution at a later date.

Persistence

WHEN a boy baby was born in 1908, his parents began immediately to provide for his education, and opened a savings account in the American Trust Company. The initial deposit was ten dollars. Each month thereafter a like sum was deposited. Today the savings amount to $3,665, and of this sum $1,265 is the accumulation of interest at four per cent, compounded semi-annually. The money will amply meet all the expense of fitting the boy for a professional career. That's the story of how one family solved the problem of financing a child's education. The plan is commended to all parents.

SANTA FE AND PIN RESULTS IN MALIKS WINS S. O. LEAGUE CAGE BATTLES

By HAM

Two dope upsets marked the Richmond city league basketball games played last night at the Roosevelt Junior high school gymnasium. The Ben Malik quintet defeated the McRackens (Clothiers) by a score of 33 to 16 and the Santa Fe team showed a sudden outburst of speed or what have you and trounced the LaMoine Druggists, 29 to 18.

By their victory the Malik team ties with the McRackens team for second place. Each team has nine wins and four defeats to their credit. As usual the Stringers team is way ahead.

But the Santa Fe game was the surprise of the evening. The Tie Walkers made the best showing of their career, using the three man system for goal shooting which, just between you and I, was something worth talking about—and how!

The score at half time was four to five in favor of the Santa Fe quintet and then the fun started.

The Druggists did not know what it was all about and gazed at the joyous fans with hurt eyes or what am I offered. It was quite sad.

Bill Gualdoni and Arthurs tied for high men; each had eight points. Tuula had six points; Villalobos had five points; Vaughn got one point.

Morrison was high man for the Druggists with eight points; Daley got five; Moore got one and Schrader made four.

But the Malik-McRackens brawl was the surprise of the evening. Who'd a think it? The score at half time was: Macken 8, Malik 18.

In the first half Bertoni made four points; Hoskings got two; Bonham collected four; Vargas got three. In the last half they started to pile up a score that was a score. In this half Bertoni made twelve points; Hoskings got four; Bonham made two; Johnson got two.

For the Clothiers in the first half Bowman made three points; Baldwin got three and Thelste got two. In the second half Sanders made one point; Bowman two and Baldwin and Thelste each made two.

The McRackens team will have a fine time fighting it out the rest of the season. More power to 'em and may the best man win—the good Lord forbidding a fourteen count.

On Saturday night the Stringers and St. Agus team of Oakland, formerly the Fruitvale Native Sons will play and the Santa Fe Tie Walkers and the Southern Pacific apprentice club team of San Francisco will mix. The first game will start at 7:30.

Thursday night Stringers and Ben Malik will play and the Mechanic Bankers and the Santa Fe will gambol about.

The line-ups last night: SANTA FE—Bowman, Grandi, Jevlin, Villalobos, forwards; Torrance, Arthurs, center; C. Bowen, Tula, Newman, Gualdoni, guards.

LA MOINE — Daley, Morrison, Brian, Schrader, forwards; Panning, center; McAllister, Moore, Thompson, guards.

Jennings O.O.'s and K.O.'s.

It usually requires one physician to treat a sick man, but it took Drs. Joseph S. Baldwin and William Walker of the staff of the boxing commission to discover that Marathon Goldstein, the run-out champion of the welterweight division, was gloriously healthy when they examined every inch of his frail body. Little known glands and muscles, together with his poodoodele, cononkial, bresarfrilas, coras, fabricords, brains—yes, brains were discovered—were scrutinized, and there was some concrete evidence of a skull. Even his heart and spine were found to be normal.

A slight trace of rouge was alleged to be resting on his lips, and it was rumored that the good doctors had to wear fur mittens when they clutched his dogs.

It was also alleged that while the docs were overhauling the ring's best sprinter a refrigerating company offered to lease his puppies for the purpose of making ice.

The medical men asked him what he thought ailed him, and he said he had swallowed his manager's list of set-ups and thought gangrene had set in, since some of the rottenest pugs in the world were mentioned on the paper. In fact, he imagined that the whole lot were diving about in his stomach.

There was not the least semblance of a set-up in the left side of his body, just a slight cold.

I sincerely hope and trust that the Goldstein referred to is not Ruby of the Ghetto and get it good and plenty.

This writer halted Ruby as a coming flyweight champ when he emerged so triumphantly from the amateur ranks.

I praised and encouraged him and as he went into the lightweight class with a record string of knockouts to his credit I was positive he would succeed Benny Leonard.

This kid with the face of a cherub and the punch of a blacksmith, never seemed to fit in the atmosphere of the ring. There was something lacking and none of the boxing writers could fashion what it was.

Even when Hudkins knocked him stiff I still thought he might make the grade.

Just a kid who had years in which to develop, and already gifted with boxing skill and that incre-lurging thing, a wallop.

If it is estimated that something like $300,000 changed hands when the raging Ace, after being floored by Ruby, commenced flailing him and brought mourning to the east side when the sad blond

JACK MAY MEET TRACK SEASON GENE IN SEPT. FOR CAL LOOKS ENCOURAGING

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 30.—Jack Dempsey has definitely decided not to fight Gene Tunney in June. He may, however, meet the champion in September. A wire conveying this information went to Tex Rickard at Miami, Fla., last night.

Today in an interview at the Barbara Hotel, Dempsey, who is now devoting much of his time to managing this hostelry, which he owns, said:

"I do not want to say that I will never enter the boxing ring again. However, the doctor has advised me to take care of my eyes and encourages me to believe that in a few months they will be entirely well. In that case I certainly want to fight and will be glad to meet Gene Tunney. It would be foolish now to make any promises for June. That is entirely out of the question but I may be able to meet Tunney in September."

The report that Estelle Taylor Dempsey had asked her husband not to fight is untrue. "Estelle," said Jack, "is perfectly willing for me to fight if my eyes are in good condition but she is opposed to my doing anything to endanger my eyesight."

Dempsey had just returned from Tia Juana where his horse, Dr. Wilson, made a sensational win on Saturday. This horse, it is said by people who claim to know, will be a dangerous contender for the Cofroffro handicap on March 18. Dempsey only yesterday refused an offer of $25,000 for this promising three-year-old.

Muddy Field Causes Game Postponement

San Pablo garage nine was forced to postpone their game Sunday with the picked team, due to the condition of the field after the heavy rains Saturday night. Originally San Pablo Garage was to have played the Vierra Billiards in the Maxwell Winter league, but the game was forfeited, so an independent team was picked to play, but could not take to the field on account of the cogy condition of the diamond.

BERKELEY, Jan. 30.—Prospects for a good season on the track were considerably enhanced at the University of California yesterday when 125 men turned out for Coach Walter Christie's 1928 squad. This is the largest number of candidates that has ever greeted the veteran coach in his twenty-eight years' experience at Berkeley.

Before the annual sign up rally, which was addressed by Judge Olie Snodgrass, former Bear track captain, and other California stars, Christie was none too optimistic. Only three of the men who represented the Bears in the I. C. A. meet of last summer had returned to school.

While Captain Lank Talbot, 440 man, John Kabeitz, broad jumper, and Irvine Phillips, weight man, remain to the squad, most of the point winners of the Bears' eastern invasion are gone.

Perhaps the greatest loss was that of Elmer Gerkin, national collegiate champion in the shot, and a consistent winner in the discus. Sibs Hill, pole vaulter, Gene Stirling, pole vaulter, and Javelin thrower, Al Regan, hurdler, Oather Hampton, high jumper, and Les Schwoboda, are the other men who have left college.

California will be fairly well fortified in the sprint department with Homer Van Gelder, Charley Giguere and Russ Ewing, all of last year's team, back in California uniforms. No one of the Bear sprinters is the equal of Charley Borah of Southern California, but all have made creditable time.

Irvine Phillips, captain-elect of the football team, will be Christie's mainstay in the weight events. He scored points against both Stanford and U. S. C. last season and qualified in the I. C. A. meet.

Wayne Fox, distant star, who did not compete last year, is back on the squad and should provide a first place in the two mile event in many meets. Fox's time for that event is well under ten minutes.

McRackens Lose To Santa Rosa

McRackens failed to come home with the report of a game won from the American Legion of Santa Rosa, but had to admit defeat by a 29-18 score. Forced to play on a small court and overrun with fouls were the two contributing causes of the defeat handed them by the Legioners.

Bill Millicovich scored most of the points for the locals, and was outstanding in the respect when it is known that he was so closely guarded that he hardly had a free shot at the bucket all night. Art McLaughlin was the star guard of the game while Cordray made most of the points for Santa Rosa.

Complete line-ups for each team and the points scored were:
McRACKENS — Millicovich, 6; center; Baldwin, 2; Bowman, 1; and Santella 1, forwards; Wilson and Baldwin, 4; center; Thelste, McLaughlin, Smith, Sanders, 4; and Williams, guard, 4. Total 18.

SANTA ROSA—Banzano, 2; Cordray, 14; Grace 4, and Noonan, forwards; Gutcher, 6; and McCause, center; Grace, 2; Jackson and Gracin, 1, guards.

CITY COUNCIL RICHMOND TO OF EL CERRITO OPPOSE PHONE BUYS PROPERTY INCREASE HERE

Purchase of the property of O. Walker 100 feet square on Manila avenue adjacent to the city hall was ordered by the council of El Cerrito Monday night at a price of $5000.

Completion of the sale will probably take place at the meeting next Monday night.

The property has one building on it which the El Cerrito Club of El Cerrito requested be used for the Boy Scouts.

Resolution of intention for the improvement of the district south of Donal street and east of San Pablo avenue with sewers was passed by the council.

An offer of the James Stafford and Associates to reappraise land values in the city for $2250 was placed on file.

Setting of the salaries of the city clerk and city treasurer for the new terms will be passed by ordinance by the council next Monday.

Councilman Phil A. Lee suggested that the salary of the two offices should be $150 per month each but city clerk Alice Morris stated that in cost cities the clerk received more than the treasurer so the fixing of salaries for the two officials was laid over for one week.

A map was presented to the council for approval by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company showing the places and numbers of poles to be installed in the city this year.

The matter was referred to a committee consisting of Councilman Phil A. Lee, George Conlon, Charles Zimmerman and City Engineer Ross L. Calfee for one week.

Application of Charles E. Parker for a soft drink permit for 15 San Pablo avenue was laid over one week for investigation.

On a complaint of Councilman Frank McDermott the City Clerk was instructed to write a letter to the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. asking them to straighten all the poles in city as the telephone company had not taken any action on the city previous request.

Chief of Police Forrest Wright to get estimates on the installation of police signal lights at the corners of Fairmont and Stockton avenues by next Monday night as the police when in the southern part of the city could not see the signal on the city hall.

On the suggestion of Mayor Fred Lutz they city clerk was instructed to write a letter to the council of Richmond informing them the policeman in the Richmond district near the county line could have the use of the telephones in the city hall at night.

"WHEREAS, the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company operates and does business in the State of California, Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Nevada, and this council is advised by the City Attorney that in the States of Washington and Oregon the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company has caused the people to pay excessive rates for telephone service, and will, if not restrained, seek to impose unjust, discriminatory and unfair telephone rates in all communities where they are engaged in business;

"NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED:

"Section 1. That Congress cause a Federal investigation to be conducted of the affairs of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Western Electric Company for the purpose of ascertaining if the relations between these companies constitute a monopoly in the selling of telephone service throughout the State of California, Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Nevada, and if they do so constitute a monopoly that action be taken by Congress to terminate the relations between the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, Western Electric Company and the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company.

"Section 2. The City Attorney is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to United States Senators Hiram W. Johnson and Samuel M. Petition Scored By San Pabloan

Citizens of San Pablo:

It must be gratifying to the people of San Pablo to know that after a few months of effort by some of our progressive citizens we have so promptly achieved success, though not in the manner we intended in putting San Pablo on the map—a little off color perhaps but anyway, on the map.

And how have we performed this miracle? Is it because we have discovered in our midst a despoiler of little girls, a man whom we had thought was a sheep, but have found out was only wearing a sheep's skin? No, this is not how we succeeded. It was accomplished by 1200 of our citizens signing petitions asking leniency for a man whom we knew had confessed to destroying the honor and virtue of a little girl nine years of age.

And why did we do this? I'll tell you why. It was because it was somebody else's little girl, little sister and some day perhaps, somebody's else mother, who was the victim.

The fact that we withdrew these petitions when he found out that perhaps our little girl may have been a victim of this man, reflects but very little credit to us.

The fact that there was talk of a frameup could have nothing to do with the case when we knew on signing that this creature had confessed to the crime. You may say that it is the parents' fault, but do you realize we do not own our own children? There are no slaves in this country. Our children are free citizens and as such are entitled to the protection of our courts. They are only under our care, guidance and protection until they reach maturity and are able to care for themselves. Their honor and virtue do not belong to us, their parents, to allow any one to sully or destroy; but rather we parents owe it to them, that to the best of our ability we shall see that they reach maturity untarnished.

If it becomes known that any parents are not giving their children proper care it then becomes the public duty to step in and see that the child or children do receive such care.

Do you think that signing petitions asking leniency for confessed rapers is giving your little girl the other fellow's little girl, little sister and some day, perhaps, somebody else's mother the guidance and protection we owe them? You who signed these petitions: What is your opinion of yourselves, especially you who are in our various offices? Do we mean by these petitions that it is open season on little girls in San Pablo?

And to those of you who did or did not sign any of these petitions or to any of you who may read this who has a little girl in your family, what are you going to do about these cases?

We are continually reading of these crimes in the newspapers and find that the guilty ones often get off with light sentences, and in some cases are not even put in jail.

The blame all does not belong to the courts and authorities, but belongs partly to you and I who sit idly by without giving voice to protest when the crimes are committed.

Are not our little girls allowed on the public streets at reasonable hours without a body guard? I think that it is time of these degenerates to be shown that it is against the law to molest little girls at any time under any conditions.

Jesse James Outdone By Chicago Thugs Method

CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—Kidnaping bandits who prey on time lock vaults, made a fourth haul here today, and escaped with $40,000 from the Industrial State Bank.

Jesse James and his gang, in their balmy days, never devised a smoother working system for bank robbery than used by the present gang.

Previous robberies on time locks included the Forest Park National, The Ravenswood National and Fokete Brothers Mortgage Bank.

The robbery of the Industrial State Bank began with the kidnaping Sunday morning of James Dillon, young teller at the institution.

He told the authorities today that he was forced into an automobile as he was returning from church Sunday morning. After being blindfolded, he was taken to an apartment house, where he was held captive until this morning.

He said he was forced to call his landlady and tell her that he would be out last night all night.

He was forced down South State street to the bank, and when he met a friend, was forced to return his greeting, he said.

Once inside the bank, the three captors bound and gagged him and the negro night porter. They then sat down and calmly waited until 7:45 when the time lock was due to open. Dillon was then forced to open the vault.

After they had taken all the cash in sight, they fled. Dillon crawled to a telephone and shouted "holdup" into the transmitter. The operator informed the police, who rushed to the building.

A diligent search is being made for the bandits, who are described as one being a "sheik," a second short and swarthy and the third tall and robust.

NAVY COMBING SEA FOR LOST SUBMARINE S-3

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The submarine S-3, which had been missing since sundown Saturday with her crew of 41 officers and men is safe. The missing vessel was located at 8 o'clock at latitude 22.30, longitude 74.07, according to a dispatch received by the navy department tonight. The message contained no details whatever, aside from giving the position where the vessel had been located, it merely stated that she was proceeding on her way. This would indicate according to navy officials the only damage she suffered off Cape Hatteras, Saturday night was disabling of her radio.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Airplanes and naval vessels tonight were combing the "graveyard of the Atlantic," that storm tossed area off Cape Hatteras, N. C., for some trace of the Submarine S-3, missing for two days with a crew of 21 officers and men.

Disheartened by the fear of another submarine tragedy, the navy was concentrating the largest rescue armada ever assembled in recent times around the spot where the Submarine was last reported.

Naval officials, however, clung tenaciously to the belief that the Submarine is "merely out of communication" and will arrive safely at its destination or be found by ships now on search. They pin their hope largely on the following theories:

First, that the S-3 is proceeding safely on its course to Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, unable to communicate with other naval vessels because its radio was disabled by the terrific gale of Saturday night.

Second, that the S-3 is lying idle somewhere along its course while repairs are made on its engines, which may have been put out of commission sometime during the terrific storms Saturday night and early Sunday.

A third theory—the possibility that the S-3 met with a disaster similar to the fate which recently overtook her sister ship, the S-4—naval officials still refused to consider.

Only a collision, they declared, could possibly send the S-3, one of the staunchest craft afloat, to the bottom of the sea, and if a collision had occurred, the department certainly would have received word of it long before this from the other vessel.

However, they conceded that if the S-3 was disabled and sank only a miracle could ever effect the rescue of its gallant crew, because the chances are practically all that the spot where it disappeared would ever be located.

Even if it were located, salvage operations would be impossible because the ocean floor lies two miles deep in that vicinity.

Likewise, the theory that the submarine was disabled by engine trouble was largely discarded because in that event, that personnel would have notified other naval vessels immediately unless its radio was also out of commission.

With that in mind, naval officials virtually pinned their only hope of safety for the S-3 on the theory that it has merely lost means of communication. They pointed out that on former occasions a submarine has been missing for as long as six days, only to arrive safely at its destination at the end of that time. Despite their optimism, however, naval officials will overlook nothing in their efforts to prevent the loss of the S-3, if still afloat, or the rescue of its crew.

The rescue ships include the new airplane carrier Saratoga, with its complement of airplanes which can be launched from the deck of the carrier to search the water for miles around. Seven submarines, the other members of the group which were proceeding with the S-3 to Guantanamo when it disappeared Saturday, are participating in the search, together with the submarine tender Camden. They include the submarines
